MGKV V-C exhorts students to become solution providers

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ VARANASI

Vice-Chancellor of Mahatma Gandhi Kashi Vidyapeeth (MGKV), Prof Prithvish Nag on Tuesday exhorted the freshers of BBA, BCA and BCom. of School of Management Sciences (SMS) to try to become solution providers in life. He was the chief guest of the Orientation Programme of the undergraduate courses at School of Management Sciences (SMS), Varanasi.

Prof Nag said that the leadership role has to be taken by every one today. Our minds should be open to perceive societal requirements and we must work for the good of the society, he said. He asked that the new incumbents to become responsible citizen and learn from the energetic environment of SMS.

Prof Nag congratulated the students on joining these courses at SMS because this Institution happens to be the pioneer in envisioning the courses of BBA and BCA. He hoped that next time more students would join the university's top-10 merit list in these programmes. SMS already gives university toppers year after year and more than 5 students every time fall in the top-10 category. He also asked the students to take the orientation programme seriously as this is the starting point of career building.

Earlier, welcoming the chief guest, the Director of SMS Prof PN Jha urged the students to utilise the facilities and amenities of SMS and grow into an ethical professional which the Institution is known for.

The Preamble of the Institution was presented by Associate Professor, Krishna

Kant Bajpai, while the pedagogy of the UG programmes was discussed by the Dean (R&D), Prof. Alok Kumar. Later subsequent sessions were taken by the respective course coordinators – Atish Khadse (BBA), Rajiv Katore (BCA) and Dr. Hemant K Yadav (BCom.). Anindo Bhattacharji gave the faculty briefing while Entrepreneurship as a career option was discussed by Prof. RK Singh.

The Executive Secretary of SMS, Dr MP Singh felicitated the chief guest with a memento.

The vote of thanks was presented by Prof Sandeep Singh (Dean-DSA), while the inaugural session was coordinated by Pallavi Pathak (Assistant Professor).

On this occasion, the 22nd issue of Management Insight journal (International premier publication of SMS, which is indexed on UGC's INFLIBNET) was also released.
